- Agritourism has different definitions in different parts of the world, and sometimes refers specifically to farm Stays.
- Agritourism includes a wide variety of activities, including buying produce direct from a farm stand, navigating a Corn maze, slopping hogs, picking fruit, feeding animals, or staying at a bed and breakfast (B&B) on a farm.
- In Nashik Many Farmers involved in agro tourism .
- Sahyadri farm is the leading example of agro Tourism in Nashik. This is a group of farmers that grow fruits & vegetables on less than 1 Hectare of land. This is Indias Leading Farmers Producer Copmany.

CAREER IN TOURISM AND HOSPITALITY

- 1) TRAVEL AGENT - Travel Agents research, plan, and book trips for individuals and groups. Although people are starting to research and book their travel plans online, it's often easier to use a Travel Agent, as they have years of experience and knowledge. They are able to help with flight bookings, hotel selection, transfer arrangements, and holiday activities.
A Travel Agent need great organisational skills, attention to detail, and the ability to think on your feet. Find out more about a day in the life of a Travel Consultant.
- 2) HOTEL MANAGER - Hotel Managers oversee all aspects of running a hotel – from housekeeping and general maintenance to budget management and marketing of the hotel. A Hotel Manager need excellent interpersonal skills, experience in the hospitality industry, and a number of years' experience in managing employees.
- 3) SPA MANAGER - Spa Managers are responsible for the day-to-day running of health and/or beauty spas. They manage a spa's finances, employees, and services. Many of the tasks are business-related and can include recordkeeping, getting involved in promotional campaigns, maintaining stock inventories, and payroll management.

- 4) TOUR OPERATOR - A Tour Operator typically combines tour and travel components to create holiday packages. He or she will deal with various service providers, including bus operators, airlines and hoteliers.
- Tour Operators prepare itineraries for various destinations and will often monitor trends in popular destinations in order to put together attractive holiday packages for clients. Tour Operators mainly deal with Travel Agents, while Travel Agents deal with the public.
- 5) EVENT & CONFERENCE ORGANISER - Organising any event or conference is time consuming, so an Event and Conference Organiser will help with the finer details of planning an event. The role is hands-on and often involves working as part of a bigger team. Event and Conference Organisers co-ordinate every detail of meetings and conferences, from the speakers and meeting locations to the printed materials and audio-visual equipment.
- 6) TOUR GUIDE - Tour Guides work in the travel industry, and give guided tours to groups of visitors/tourists. Tour Guides must have expert knowledge of specific areas, including natural features, historic sites, museums, and other tourist destinations. Guides may give walking tours, bus tours, or even boat tours.

- 7) EXECUTIVE CHEF - The Executive Chef is in charge of a restaurant's kitchen, and is responsible for managing the kitchen staff, planning the menu, sourcing the freshest ingredients, and making sure that food hygiene is maintained throughout the restaurant. An Executive Chef must be able to spot problems and resolve them quickly and efficiently.
- 8) SOMMELIER - In short, a Wine Sommelier is an expert in wines. A Wine Sommelier is passionate about wine. He or she is a highly trained and knowledgeable wine professional, specialising in all aspects of wine service. Five-star restaurants will often employ a Sommelier to develop their wine list and to help customers find a wine within their budget that suits their tastes and complements their food.
- 9) PR MANAGER - A PR Manager manages a brand's reputation, and will plan, develop, and implement specific strategies to build and maintain the overall brand and reputation. In the Tourism and Hospitality environment, a PR Manager might work for a hotel chain, a cruise company.
- 10) LEISURE ACTIVITY CO-ORDINATOR - usually work for resorts and hotel chains. They're the people on the ground who make sure that any planned activities run smoothly. They're also responsible for every aspect of the day-to-day management of a leisure centre, organising health and fitness programmes, promoting and marketing the business, and interacting with guests.
